

Quinn Carbery
STUDENT OF THE MONTH
Los Altos High School
November 2022

Senior

Los Altos High School is proud to honor Quinn Carbery as our November Student of the Month. It is a privilege to recognize all of his accomplishments throughout his time at Los Altos High School. Quinn is known on campus for being everywhere. Whether it's documenting activities for the yearbook or taking incredible headshots for our football team to use in advertising, it seems as though he's always doing something to better our school community.

Throughout his time at Los Altos, His favorite classes have been biotech and photography. Through these classes, he has realized his love for hands-on projects, the scientific process, and, most importantly, art. After discovering his passion for art, he took classes at Foothill College. Last year, he was awarded 2nd place in photography in the New Museum Los Gatos ArtNow Competition. This award included being one of the 79 pieces of art accepted out of the 789 submitted.

Quinn is also very passionate about community enrichment through philanthropy. He volunteers at Second Harvest Food Bank in San Jose to provide nutritious meals to the Bay Area. Quinn loves volunteering at Second Harvest because he gets to experience the difference their work is making in his community. He particularly likes packing and sorting food donations in Second Harvest warehouses. Quinn was also a project manager at Life Moves, a non-profit in Palo Alto that provides people experiencing homelessness with financial and social support to get them back on their feet. As a project lead, he created and organized the collection of donations and sleeping bags for local homeless shelters.

On the athletic side of things, Quinn was on the Los Altos High School basketball team in his freshman and sophomore years. And even though he is not currently on any team, he is very involved with Los Altos athletics through his work with yearbook. Outside of school, Quinn plays club baseball, as he has done since seventh grade. He loves being part of a team and encourages his teammates to grow as players. He is a coaching assistant for his baseball club, where he helps train younger players.

After high school, Quinn hopes to attend a college where he can continue to foster his love of photography. He hopes to pursue a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Photography and work with photography in all aspects of his life.

Congratulations, Quinn Carbery, for receiving November Student of the Month and for all of your amazing success and dedication to give back to your community and school. We can't wait to see all of the amazing accomplishments coming your way in the near future!
