Mountain View High School is proud to recognize Kylie Outten as our October 2023 Student of the Month.

I am delighted to introduce Kylie Outten, an exceptional spartan whose remarkable kindness and outstanding character have earned her the title of MVHS student of the month. As the President of Spartan Buddies, a role she has held for three years, Kylie Outten is deeply committed to fostering friendships and promoting inclusivity among students with disabilities and their peers. She has dedicated four years to this club, starting her involvement in her freshman year of high school, showing her dedication to this club.

In addition to her role in Spartan Buddies, Kylie serves as a teacher's assistant for the Special Education classrooms at MVHS during 1st period. She also volunteered for the Special Education summer school at MVHS, finding joy in contributing to this meaningful program.

Kylie's involvement extends beyond special education initiatives. She has been an active member of the National Honor Society for three years and a board member for two years. She is also a devoted member of the Homeless Action Club, where she has been actively engaged for three years. All of these commitments show Kylie's devotion to community service and helping others around her.

Outside of school, Kylie pursues her passions for oil painting, filmmaking, website design, and volunteering with the Silicon Valley Down Syndrome Network. She has created an Etsy store featuring inclusion merchandise, with the proceeds benefiting Spartan Buddies. Her dedication to volunteering and community service is well recognized, as she has been on the board of the National Charity League for 6 years.

Last summer, Kylie attended the Yale Young Scholars program, gaining international exposure and delving into critical topics such as the future influence of AI and education inequities. As part of the Freestyle Academy of Communication Arts and Technology, Kylie is currently engaged in a two-year film program. You can see her values of equity and inclusion represented
