

Gaurav Chakravarty
STUDENT OF THE MONTH
Mountain View High School

May 2020

Junior

Mountain View High School is Proud to present Gaurav Chakravarty as May's Student of the Month.

Gaurav is an outstanding Mountain View student - he is a hard worker, and a strong leader. He is currently enrolled in a challenging course load consisting of: AP Spanish Language, Honors American Literature, AP Physics 1, AP Computer Science, Trigonometry Honors, US History, and Jazz Band.

Outside of school, Gaurav volunteers as a tutor in underprivileged areas, and in the past he has led groups of young children in cultural music performances. Gaurav enjoys playing the guitar, which he has been doing since he was 5 years old, and he is mostly self-taught. He can also play the bass, drums, and ukulele...a truly talented musician! On top of this, Gaurav performs cultural music across the state with his dad and sister. Gaurav is also currently part of a production duo called 52 prime, and has been working hard over Zoom these past few months to produce an album called "17", set to launch on June 11th; the proceeds of which will go to help those in need and people who have been affected by the pandemic. In addition to all of this, Gaurav is a member of the Ambassadors Program at Mountain View, and he is excited to be a Pod Commissioner next year.

Congratulations again to Gaurav Chakravarty, Mountain View High School's May Student of the Month.
