

Oscar Johnson
STUDENT OF THE MONTH
Los Altos High School
April 2024

Los Altos High School is proud to recognize Oscar Johnson as our April 2024 Student of the Month.

Los Altos High School is proud to honor Oscar Johnson as our April Student of the Month. It is a privilege to recognize all of his accomplishments throughout his time at Los Altos High School.

After taking Journalism his sophomore year, loving the access to knowledge he got, and the relationships he formed with both administrators and students, he decided to join the Talon, LAHS's student run paper. As the news editor, He is in charge of the news section of the paper: managing writers and the layout of the monthly print issues of the Talon.

Oscar is also the President and Executive Producer of TEDxLAHS. He holds the producer license from the TED organization on behalf of LAHS, organizes events featuring local speakers and distributes the recorded talks to the TED platform to be shared with a wider audience. In addition to organizing speakers, he himself spoke at a TED event at Gunn high school earlier this year on income inequality in the Bay Area.

He is the president of the investing and economy club at los altos, where he participated in Wharton Investment Competition and Harvard Crimson Case Competition with his clubmates. In addition to his work on economics through clubs, he was also a finalist in "Economics Category" for the John Locke International Essay Competition, where he wrote and researched an essay about income inequality and the role of billionaires in the world.

After Graduation, Oscar hopes to attend college where he will major in Economics and Journalism. Through his classes and activities at LAHS, he has seen the intersection of econ/ business and journalism, and views this as the starting point to bring light to all issues. For him, understanding how economies work is integral to almost every aspect of life, and hopes to apply his studies in sectors like policy and healthcare.

Congratulations Oscar Johnson for being our April Student of the Month. We are so proud of all your accomplishments and impact you have made in our community, and we look forward to hearing what you accomplish in the near future.
