

Precious Nyarko
STUDENT OF THE MONTH
Mountain View High School
May 2022

Junior

Mountain View High School is proud to recognize Precious Nyarko as our May 2022 Student of the Month.

Precious is a current junior at MVHS who is involved in activities including ASB, Varsity Cheerleading, Black Student Union, and the Me Too Club and is described as committed, hardworking, and determined to help others.

Precious has been on the Varsity Cheerleading Team since her sophomore year and enjoys hyping up the crowd and her teammates during sporting events.

Precious is on the diversity committee of MVHS student government. Through this committee, she has founded the idea of having free spirit gear in the library during spirit weeks, as well as has helped plan the cultural fashion show. Precious describes her greatest accomplishment as serving as a voice in ASB for underrepresented groups on campus. She prioritizes listening to ways our school can be improved and tirelessly works on implementing them within the diversity committee.

This year, Precious was the public relations officer of Black Student Union. Through this role, she has increased participation in the club and has worked on ensuring that black students on campus feel that there is a community for them. Next year, she is excited to serve as the President of the Black Student Union and the Me Too club, where she advocates for sexual assault awareness within our community.

Outside of school, Precious enjoys spending her summers with Olimpico, a non-profit organization that focuses on providing a hands-on STEAM program for low-income Kindergarten through fifth-grade students. This summer, she will be a lead teacher's assistant for the fourth grade and a counselor for Spartan Sports Camp.

Precious is also a student in AVID and her favorite classes are Honors American Literature and AP U.S. History. Looking toward the future, she hopes to work in education and eventually become a superintendent!

Congratulations, Precious!
